Summary

I am a self-taught Junior Software engineer currently learning more to develop my skills on free code camp and also at Hyperiondev coding bootcamp. After studying Computer Science online for the last 3 months, I was able to fast track my learning and complete many online freeCodeCamp Certifications due to quarantine, including responsive webdesign and JavaScript Certifications at freecodecamp.org. representing 300 hours per certification.

I am still in the process of obtaining more certifications and enrolling at a coding bootcamp as i aim to learn more about full stack development.
